RADIO 4:

Sunday Worship at 8.10am Church Adventures

Jay Hulme is a poet, church explorer and assistant church warden at one of the oldest churches in the country, St Nicholas' in Leicester. He leads an act of worship as a tour of the church which was built in 879CE, the walls tell the story of the faith that has been expressed within the building for over a thousand years. Today, St Nicolas opens its arms to a diverse congregation. The altar, the nave, the pews are decked in rainbow flags as members of Leicester's LGTBQ+ community find a space of welcome and worship. Alongside the Revd Canon Karen Rooms and members of the church community, Jay explores ideas of inclusion, belief and belonging, discussing the uncomfortable place where the spiritual and the physical meet and addressing the complex challenges faced by those who follow the faith.

BBC TELEVISION:

BBC 1 at 1.15pm Songs of Praise Jurassic Coast

Claire McCollum explores stories of fossils, faith and science along the beautiful Jurassic Coast that spans 95 miles of Devon and Dorset and reveals 185 million years of history. In Lyme Regis, Claire hears the story of Mary Anning, the 19th-century Christian fossil hunter who revolutionised palaeontology. Following in Mary's footsteps, Claire joins a fossil walk along Lyme Regis beach with renowned botanist Sir Ghilleain Prance to hear how science and faith can live in harmony. Gemma Hunt meets a geologist whose childhood holidays on the Jurassic Coast inspired her vital work on climate change. She speaks about the importance of studying the natural world and about feeling the presence of God on expeditions to the wilderness of Antarctica. And the first Songs of Praise congregation in more than 18 months sings favourite hymns by the seaside in Swanage.
